

THE TREE OF SWEET BLESSINGS

One day, Guru Nanak Dev Ji lovingly served langar to everyone. Soon, many more people came. There was not enough food left for all.

Guru Nanak Dev Ji looked at a big kikar (gum Arabic) tree nearby and said to his sons, Sri Chand Ji and Laxmi Das Ji, "Children, climb this tree and shake it. Sweets will fall, and we will share them with everyone."

His sons were surprised. They said,
“Pitaji, how can sweets fall from a tree?”
They did not believe it was possible, and they quietly walked away.

Then Guru Ji called Bhai Lehna Ji.

“Lehna Ji, shake just one branch of this tree. Sweets will fall, and we will share them with the sangat.” Bhai Lehna Ji trusted Guru Ji completely. He folded his hands and said, “Sat Vachan Ji.”

He went to the tree. Before climbing, he carefully spread a clean sheet under it so the sweets would not fall into the mud.

Then he climbed the tree and gently shook the branches. Suddenly, sweet laddoos began to fall from the tree onto the sheet! Everyone was amazed and happy.

Guru Nanak Dev Ji lovingly distributed the sweets to all the sangat. There was joy everywhere.
Guru Ji was very pleased with Bhai Lehna Ji.
